The New Ion Revolution!

At Xpert we constantly strive to keep our product line as advanced as possible and with switch failures representing the majority of pump problems, we have decided to add the Ion Revolution to our product line. It is a revolutionary switch, with solid state sensing technology, it has no moving parts or contact points. The Ion has a multi-point sealing mechanism that supercedes single surface seals. It's inverter is rated for use with any battery backup system and it's standard piggy back connection allows use with any pump.
